David Game Higher Education Centre (DGHE):

These Strategy and Policy documents have been written with a specific focus on the application of PREVENT within the independent school section of David Game College. They do however apply across the institution as a whole including the higher education centre, where the ‘pupils’ are in fact adult learners and the College has a duty of care with regards to those ‘vulnerable’ persons that may be present in the DGHE student body.

Introduction: :Our College’s Prevent strategy aims to stop people becoming terrorists or supporting terrorism and promotes the importance of this to staff and ensure that they implement the Prevent duty effectively. The Prevent duty is not intended to stop pupils debating controversial issues. Our College’s Preventing Extremism and Radicalisation Safeguarding Policy also draws upon the guidance contained in the DfE Guidance ‘Keeping Children Safe in Education, 2019’ and the DfE’s ‘Teaching Approaches that help Build Resilience to Extremism among

Young People' builds resilience to radicalisation by promoting fundamental British values through the curriculum and through social, moral, spiritual and cultural development, equips pupils with knowledge, skills and understanding to prepare them to play a full and active part in society and ensures that the College is a safe place to discuss sensitive issues, while securing balanced presentation of views and avoiding political indoctrination.

The threat to terrorism to the UK is real and serious. There are a few people who seek to attack the United Kingdom without warning. The aim of the Government's counter terrorism strategy, CONTEST, is to reduce the risk to the UK so that people can go about their lives freely and with confidence. We all have a role to play in supporting the aim of CONTEST. We can do this by remaining vigilant and reporting any suspicious activity. Suspicious activity can include someone:

- behaving differently for no obvious reason;
- with passports or other documents in different names for no obvious reasons;
- who travels for long periods of time but is vague about where they're going;
- buying or storing large amounts of chemicals for no obvious reasons;
- who visits or sends out links to extremist internet sites;
- who is recording and documenting information in a crowded location and
- who undertakes activity at a property that doesn't fit normal day to day life.

Police see the current threats as:

- ISIS, Al Qaeda and various radical Islamic terrorist groups
- Domestic Extremism/far-right, Animal Rights and eco-terrorism

Purpose: We ensure that:

- Our College complies with all the relevant current legislation and other National Standards which govern this area of our work.
 - Our students keep themselves and others in the wider community safe.
 - We prevent vulnerable young people in our care being exposed to radicalisation and extreme views
 - We provide opportunities for students to widen and develop interpersonal skills by meeting and forming relationships with people from outside the establishment.
- The welfare and safety of individuals in our care is a major consideration at all times.
- Arrangements are in place to deal with concerns which may be raised about an individual/s in our care.

The Governments Prevent Strategy defines extremism as: "Vocal or active opposition to fundamental British values, including democracy, the rule of law, individual liberty and mutual respect and tolerance of different faiths and beliefs. We also include in our definition of extremism calls for the death of members of our armed forces". Extremists of all persuasions aim to develop destructive relationships between different communities by promoting division, fear and mistrust of others. Education is a powerful weapon against this; equipping students with the knowledge, skills and critical thinking, to challenge and debate in an informed way. Therefore, at David Game College our Personal, Social, Health, Economic Education (PSHEE) program along with meeting the requirements set out in section 78 of the Education Act 2002 and promote the spiritual, moral, social and cultural (SMSC) development of their pupils.

Through ensuring pupils' SMSC development, Colleges can also demonstrate they are actively promoting fundamental British values. Actively promoting the values means challenging opinions or behaviours in College that are contrary to fundamental British values. Attempts to promote systems that undermine fundamental British values would be completely at odds with Colleges' duty to provide SMSC. The Teachers' Standards expect teachers to uphold public trust in the profession and maintain high standards of ethics and behaviour, within and outside College. This includes not undermining fundamental British values.

It is our aim that the students gain an enriched understanding and tolerance of difference and diversity to ensure that they thrive, feel valued and not marginalized. Any prejudice, discrimination or extremist views, including derogatory language, displayed by students or staff will always be challenged and where appropriate dealt with in line with our Disciplinary Policy for students and the Code of Behaviour for staff. As part of wider safeguarding responsibilities, staff are alert to:

David Game College is committed to safeguarding and promoting the welfare of our pupils and expects all staff and volunteers to share this commitment. It is our aim that all pupils fulfil their potential.

- disclosures by students of their exposure to the extremist actions, views or materials of others outside of College, such as in their homes or community groups, especially where students have not actively sought these out;
- graffiti symbols, writing or art work promoting extremist messages or images;
- students accessing extremist material online, including through social networking sites and excessive usage;
- parental reports of changes in behaviour, friendship or actions and requests for assistance;
- partner Colleges, local authority services, and police reports of issues affecting students in other Colleges or settings;
- students voicing opinions drawn from extremist ideologies and narratives;
- use of extremist or hate terms to exclude others or incite violence;
- intolerance of difference, whether secular or religious or, in line with our equalities policy, views based on, but not exclusive to, gender, disability, homophobia, race, colour or culture;
- attempts to impose extremist views or practices on others and Anti-Western or Anti-British views.

In the event of concerns about a person becoming radicalised advice will be sought from the City of London Prevent Team who has a panel which meets to address issues of individuals who have been identified as being at risk of radicalisation but have not committed any terrorism offence. This Panel meets when a referral has been made and referrals can be made by anyone. During any subsequent external investigation, for the individual to remain in our care, the senior management team will hold a focus meeting to identify risks and control measures that can be put in place to reduce that risk. They will decide if it is safe to keep the individual or whether they need to undertake a period of temporary exclusion.

Prevent Duty: The National Prevent Duty Guidance 2018 website is:

<https://www.gov.uk/government/publications/prevent-duty-guidance>. Our curriculum promotes the spiritual, moral, cultural, mental and physical development of pupils and prepares them for the opportunities, responsibilities and experiences of life. It also promotes community cohesion. Educational establishments have a clear responsibility to exercise their duty of care and to protect the welfare of students. It is understood that every College is unique. This means that any engagement or activity conducted under Prevent must be considered in light of local circumstances. Prevent support can be adapted to ensure activity is both appropriate and proportionate. As the strategy identifies, Prevent can work within both violent and non-violent extremism arenas and can include topics such as hate crime, racism, bullying, on line safety and extreme political views. This means that the strategy can be delivered in a variety of ways depending on the institution, its requirements and the potential risk.

Our College promotes young people in making positive choices about their lives and endorses the Channel early intervention scheme for students who could be at risk of radicalisation. The non-statutory guidance can be found here

http://course.ncalt.com/Channel_General_Awareness/01/index.html

Channel is a national programme to safeguard children and adults from being drawn into terrorism. It became statutory in February 2015. It is an early intervention to protect and divert people away from the risk they face before illegal activity occurs.

Radicalisation: is defined in the government's Prevent strategy as "the process by which a person comes to support terrorism and forms of extremism leading to terrorism". There is no single way of identifying an individual who is likely to be susceptible to an extremist ideology as it occurs as a result of varying consequences and settings. David Game College responds to pupils who may be targeted or influenced to participate in radicalism or extremism. We also ensure that we can "demonstrate activity", as required by the statutory guidance, in the following key areas: risk assessment, working in partnership, staff training and IT policies.

E-safety and the use of Social Media: Social media is an increasingly influential part of life particularly for young people. It has been identified as an important tool in the sharing of extreme material and extremist groups are actively using social media to inform, share propaganda, radicalise and recruit for their cause. Social media safeguarding is an important element of protecting young people from extremist narratives and Prevent can play an active part in this process.

Extremists are encouraged to: 'Invade' social network sites such as Facebook by setting up groups with radical views and to seek to gather users with the 'right' attitude; 'Invade' file-sharing sites like YouTube by placing various clips with extreme content and infiltrate popular Islamist websites in order to attempt to convert them into militant sites in line with the closed websites by spreading extremist contents on the discussion of forums of these sites.

Through their provision of SMSC Development David Game College enables students to develop their self-knowledge, self-esteem and self-confidence. Our College promotes respect for other people and enables students to acquire an appreciation of and respect for their own and other cultures and cultural traditions. Personal development is promoted, so that students are well prepared and contribute to wider society. This includes:

- Enabling students to distinguish right from wrong and to respect the civil and criminal law of England; Encouraging students to accept responsibility for their behaviour, show initiative, and to understand how they can contribute positively to the lives of those living and working in the locality of the College and to society more widely;
- Enabling students to acquire a broad general knowledge of and respect for public institutions and services in England and encouraging respect for democracy and support for participation in the democratic processes, including respect for the basis on which the law is made and applied in England.

Child Protection: Staff at David Game College are alert to the fact that whilst Extremism and Radicalisation is broadly a safeguarding issue there may be some instances where a child or children may be at direct risk of harm or neglect. For example; this could be due to a learner displaying risky behaviours in terms of the activities they are involved in or the groups they are associated with or staff may be aware of information about a learner's family that may equally place a child at risk of harm. Therefore all adults working in David Game College including visiting staff, volunteers, contractors, and students on placement) are required to report instances where they believe a child may be at risk of harm or neglect to the Designated Safeguarding Lead. In David Game College our Safeguarding reporting arrangements are set out fully in our Safeguarding Policy.

Role of the Prevent Officer & the Designated Safeguarding Lead: The Designated Safeguarding Lead (DSL)/Prevent Officer along with the Deputy DSLs/Prevent Officers work in line with the responsibilities as set out in the DfE Guidance 'Keeping Children Safe in Education'. They are our internal lead staff regarding the Prevent strand of the Government's counter-terrorism strategy and radicalisation.

Training: Whole College in-service training on Prevent as part of safeguarding is organised for staff and the senior management annually by the Prevent Officer. All training comes from an accredited provider at least every year. Online training is also considered a useful back-up. The key areas to be included in the training can be found in the Preventing Extremism FAQ and include:

- what Prevent is, what extremism and radicalisation are;
- confidence to identify children at risk of being drawn into terrorism and how people may be drawn into terrorism;
- confidence to challenge extremist ideas which can be used to legitimise terrorism and are shared by terrorist groups;
- how messages are spread; the role of the internet and social media;
- what Colleges and childcare providers must do to comply with the Prevent duty;
- Support for individuals at risk and how and where to refer children and young people for further help.

Reporting Concerns: Our Prevent Officer and DSL can provide advice and support to other members of staff on protecting children from the risk of radicalisation. Our College ensures staff understand what radicalization and extremism mean and why people may be vulnerable to being drawn into terrorism. We ensure staff have the knowledge and confidence to identify children at risk of being drawn into terrorism, and to challenge extremist ideas which can be used to legitimize terrorism. Staff safeguard and promote the welfare of children and know where and how to refer children and young people identified as being at risk of radicalization for further help to our Prevent Officer who will consider the most appropriate referral which could include Channel or Children's Social Care. Details of our Local Authority Prevent Lead who can give support and advice for the prevention of radicalization is available at the top of this policy.

Working in partnership with other agencies and information sharing: In-line with the safeguarding arrangements sent out by the City of London, David Game College co-operates productively with our local Prevent co-ordinators, the City of London Police and existing multi-agency forums, for example Community Safety Partnerships on all matters regarding safeguarding and preventing extremism. We ensure information is shared appropriately.

Teaching Approaches: We will all strive to eradicate the myths and assumptions that can lead to some students becoming alienated and disempowered, especially where the narrow approaches students may experience elsewhere may make it harder for them to challenge or question these radical influences, this guidance and support be delivered in tutorials. We ensure that all of our support and approaches will help our students build resilience to extremism and give them a positive sense of identity through the development of critical thinking skills. We are flexible enough to adapt our teaching approaches, as appropriate and address specific issues so as to become even more relevant to the current issues of extremism and radicalisation. In doing so we follow the three broad categories of:

- making a connection with children through positive engagement and a learner centred approach;
- facilitating a “safe space” in which children, young people and staff can understand the risks associated with terrorism and develop the knowledge and skills to be able to challenge extremist arguments; and
- equipping our children with the appropriate skills, knowledge, understanding and awareness for resilience.

Therefore, this approach will be embedded within the ethos of our College so that students know and understand what safe and acceptable behaviour is in the context of extremism and radicalisation. This will work in conjunction with our College’s approach to the spiritual, moral, social and cultural development of children. Our goal is to build mutual respect and understanding and to promote the use of dialogue not violence as a form of conflict resolution. We will achieve this by using an approach that includes: PSHEE programmes; open discussion and debate; work on anti-violence and a restorative approach to conflict resolution; and targeted programmes. SMSC development is embedded into the life of our College.

We also work with local partners, families and communities in our efforts to ensure our College understands and embraces our local context and values in challenging extremist views and to assist in the broadening of our student’s experiences and horizons. We help support children who may be vulnerable to such influences as part of our wider safeguarding responsibilities and where we believe a learner is being directly affected by extremist materials or influences we will ensure that that learner is offered mentoring. Additionally, in such instances our College will seek external support from the Local Authority and/or local partnership structures working to prevent extremism.

At David Game College we promote the values of democracy, the rule of law, individual liberty, mutual respect and tolerance for those with different faiths and beliefs. We will teach and encourage children to respect one another and to respect and tolerate difference, especially those of a different faith or no faith. It is indeed our most fundamental responsibility to keep our children safe and prepare them for life in modern multi-cultural Britain and globally.

Specific Duties of Staff

All members of staff have a specific duty and responsibility with regard to combating extremism. The Teachers’ Standards (July 2011) clearly shows this professional responsibility in Part 2:

- Showing tolerance of and respect for the rights of others;
- Not undermining fundamental British values, including democracy, the rule of law, individual liberty and mutual respect, tolerance of those of different faiths and beliefs;
- Ensuring that personal beliefs are not expressed in ways that exploit pupils’ vulnerability or might lead them to break the law
- Provide a safe environment and space where students can discuss ideas and controversial issues openly and freely

- Providing skills and knowledge to explore political and social issues critically, to weigh evidence, debate and make reasoned arguments

An important resource for staff is the web site educate against hate

www. educateagainsthate.com

What is expected from teachers?

As with all other policies, the Prevent Duty should not be burdensome and students should not overly notice elements of its implementation outside of the promotion of British Values and tolerance of others. The main purpose of the Prevent Strategy is to build children’s resilience to radicalisation by providing a safe environment for debating controversial issues and helping them to understand how they can influence and participate in decision-making. To this end, the Prevent Strategy and the Prevent Duty are fundamentally integrated into safeguarding, SMSC and by association, the curriculum and acceptable and safe use of IT and the Web. The Prevent duty does not require teachers to carry unnecessary intrusion into family life but as with any other safeguarding risk they must take action when they observe behaviour that causes concern. The College has a strict leaflet policy, which states that leaflets can only be distributed if they have been first approved by the Vice Principals. Any teacher that notices students attempting to distribute material that undermines British Values must report this to the Prevent Lead or one of the Leadership Team.

It is also important to remember that Prevent is not just aimed at students - staff can also be reported if they are trying to influence students or other staff in a manner that is contrary to Prevent values.

All teachers are required to meet the Teachers’ Standards, and specifically in relation to the Prevent Duty, to meet Part Two of the standards, which deals with personal and professional conduct. Teachers are expected to “uphold public trust in the profession and maintain high standards of ethics and behaviour, within and outside of college”.

Where appropriate, teachers will be expected to promote British values:

- Democracy
- The rule of law
- Individual liberty
- Mutual respect
- Tolerance of different faiths and beliefs

Challenging any opinions or behaviour that would undermine British values and report any concerns about comments, and behaviour that would suggest a student is being radicalised to a designate child safeguarding officer or the person specifically responsible for Prevent implementation (John Dalton). Teachers are expected to assimilate British values into the curriculum. If the curriculum is defined as everything a pupil learns about in college, it is clear that Prevent is not just limited to the formal curriculum and includes SMSC and extra-curricular activities, for example: assemblies, clubs, societies, events and the Student Council.

There is no single way to identify an individual who is likely to be susceptible to terrorist ideology. As with other safeguarding risks, staff should be alert to changes in children’s behaviour, which may indicate they need help or protection. Children at risk of radicalisation may display different signs or seek to hide their views. It is up to staff to use their professional judgment and act proportionately. The latter is critical in implementing the Prevent Duty as it is very easy to over-react and restrict a pupil's ability to engage in banter, make jokes, or discuss topics that have a ubiquitous presence in the media.

Examples of possible concerning behaviour:

- The vocalisation of extreme opinions - especially of a religious or political bent
- Students who seek to strongly persuade others of their views (especially if these views undermine British values) in or outside of the classroom
- Students attempting to distribute leaflets whose content is against British Values or that which seeks to promote directly or indirectly extremist views
- Students whose behaviour significantly changes for no obvious reason
- Students who demonstrate a strong opposition to British values in their communications
- Sudden conversion to a new religion
- Embracing major conspiracy theories
- Becoming abusive to other students who are different

Teachers must not promote partisan political views in the teaching of any subject and should provide a balanced presentation of ideas. If a teacher believes that one of their pupils is vulnerable to or is being subject to external or internal influences that may lead to radicalisation, then they must inform the Prevent representative, John Dalton or the designated Safeguarding officers.

Training

It is responsibility of the college and the designated Prevent contact, John Dalton, to ensure that staff are trained so that everyone has the capability to deal with the risk of radicalisation, and more specifically to help staff:

- Develop an understanding of what radicalisation means and why students might be vulnerable to it
- What is meant by extremism?
- The relationship between extremism and terrorism
- The measures that are able to prevent people from becoming drawn into terrorism
- How to challenge extremist ideology
- How to obtain support and report or make a referral

Use of External Agencies and Speakers: Our College encourages the use of external agencies or speakers to enrich the experiences of our students, however we will positively vet those external agencies, individuals or speakers who we engage to provide such learning opportunities or experiences for our students. We comply with KCSIE paragraph 43 and prevent people who pose a risk of harm from working with children. We adhere to statutory responsibilities and check staff who work with students, taking proportionate decisions on whether to ask for any checks beyond what is required. We ensure that volunteers are appropriately supervised. Such vetting is to ensure that we do not unwittingly use agencies that contradict each other with their messages or that are inconsistent with, or are in complete opposition to, our College's values and ethos. We must be aware that in some instances the work of external agencies may not directly be connected with the rest of the College curriculum so we need to ensure that this work is of benefit to students. Our College will assess the suitability and effectiveness of input from external agencies or individuals to ensure that:

- Any messages communicated to students are consistent with the ethos of the College and do not marginalise any communities, groups or individuals;
- Any messages do not seek to glorify criminal activity or violent extremism or seek to radicalise students through extreme or narrow views of faith, religion or culture or other ideologies;
- Activities are matched to the needs of students and
- Activities are carefully evaluated by Colleges to ensure that they are effective.

David Game College is committed to safeguarding and promoting the welfare of our pupils and expects all staff and volunteers to share this commitment. It is our aim that all pupils fulfil their potential.

David Game College records formal checks in the SCR by reference to the statutory regulations currently in force. By delivering a broad and balanced tutorial programme, augmented by the use of external sources where appropriate, we strive to ensure our students recognise risk and build resilience to manage any such risk themselves where appropriate to their age and ability but also to help students develop the critical thinking skills needed to engage in informed debate.

Whistle Blowing: Where there are concerns of extremism or radicalisation Students and Staff will be encouraged to make use of our internal systems to Whistle Blow or raise any issue in confidence. They must inform the Headteacher straight away (or if it relates to the Headteacher, inform Local Authority Designated Officer whose contact details are stated early in the child protection policy).

Recruitment: The arrangements for recruiting all staff, permanent and volunteers, to our College will follow guidance for safer recruitment best practice in education settings, including, but not limited to, ensuring that DBS checks are always made at the appropriate level, that references are always received and checked and that we complete and maintain a single central record of such vetting checks. We apply safer recruitment best practice principles and sound employment practice in general and in doing so will deny opportunities for inappropriate recruitment or advancement. We are alert to the possibility that persons may seek to gain positions within our College so as to unduly influence our College's character and ethos. We are aware that such persons seek to limit the opportunities for our students thereby rendering them vulnerable to extremist views and radicalisation as a consequence. Therefore, we adhere to safer recruitment practice.

Role of the Proprietor: The Proprietor undertakes appropriate training to ensure that they are clear about the role and the parameters of their responsibilities as Proprietor, including the statutory safeguarding duties. The Proprietor also supports the ethos and values of our College and supports tackling extremism and radicalisation. . In line with the provisions set out in the DfE guidance 'Keeping Children Safe in Education, 2019' the Proprietor challenges the College's senior management team on the delivery of this policy and monitors its effectiveness. The Proprietor reviews this policy annually and may amend and adopt it outside of this timeframe in accordance with any new legislation or guidance or in response to any quality assurance recommendations pertaining to the delivery of this policy and the overall safeguarding arrangements made.

The Prevent Strategy and the Channel Programme Frequently asked questions (FAQs)

What is the Prevent strategy? Prevent is the Government's strategy to stop people becoming terrorists or supporting terrorism, in all its forms. Prevent works at all the pre-criminal stages by using early intervention to encourage individuals and communities to challenge extremist and terrorist ideology and behaviour.

What is Channel? Channel is a key element of the Prevent strategy. It is a multi-agency approach to protect people at risk from radicalisation. Channel uses existing collaboration between local authorities, statutory partners (such as the education and health sectors, social services, children's and youth services and offender management services), the police and the local community to:

- identify individuals at risk of being drawn into terrorism and assess the nature and extent of that risk
- develop the most appropriate support plan for the individuals concerned.

Channel is about safeguarding children and adults from being drawn into committing terrorist-related activity. It is about early intervention to protect and divert people away from the risk they face before illegality occurs.

Channel is one tactical option employed by Prevent and has recently been placed on a statutory footing. To understand more about the Channel Programme further information can be found here –

www.gov.uk/government/publications/channel-guidance

Who can make a referral? Anyone can make a referral. Referrals have come from a wide range of partners: Social services, children and adult services, health, police, education and youth offending teams.

What happens with the referral? Each referral is screened for suitability via a preliminary assessment undertaken by the Police Channel coordinator and the local authority. If suitable, the case is discussed with all relevant partners to decide if an intervention is necessary.

Will the Individual be Informed about the Channel referral?

If an individual is deemed to require a Channel intervention, they must be told prior to receiving an investigation. The process will be carefully managed with the referring agency.

Who sits on the Channel Panel? The Channel Panel is chaired by the local authority and includes Police, statutory partners and non-statutory partners, where appropriate. Lead Safeguarding professionals will be invited on a case by case basis.

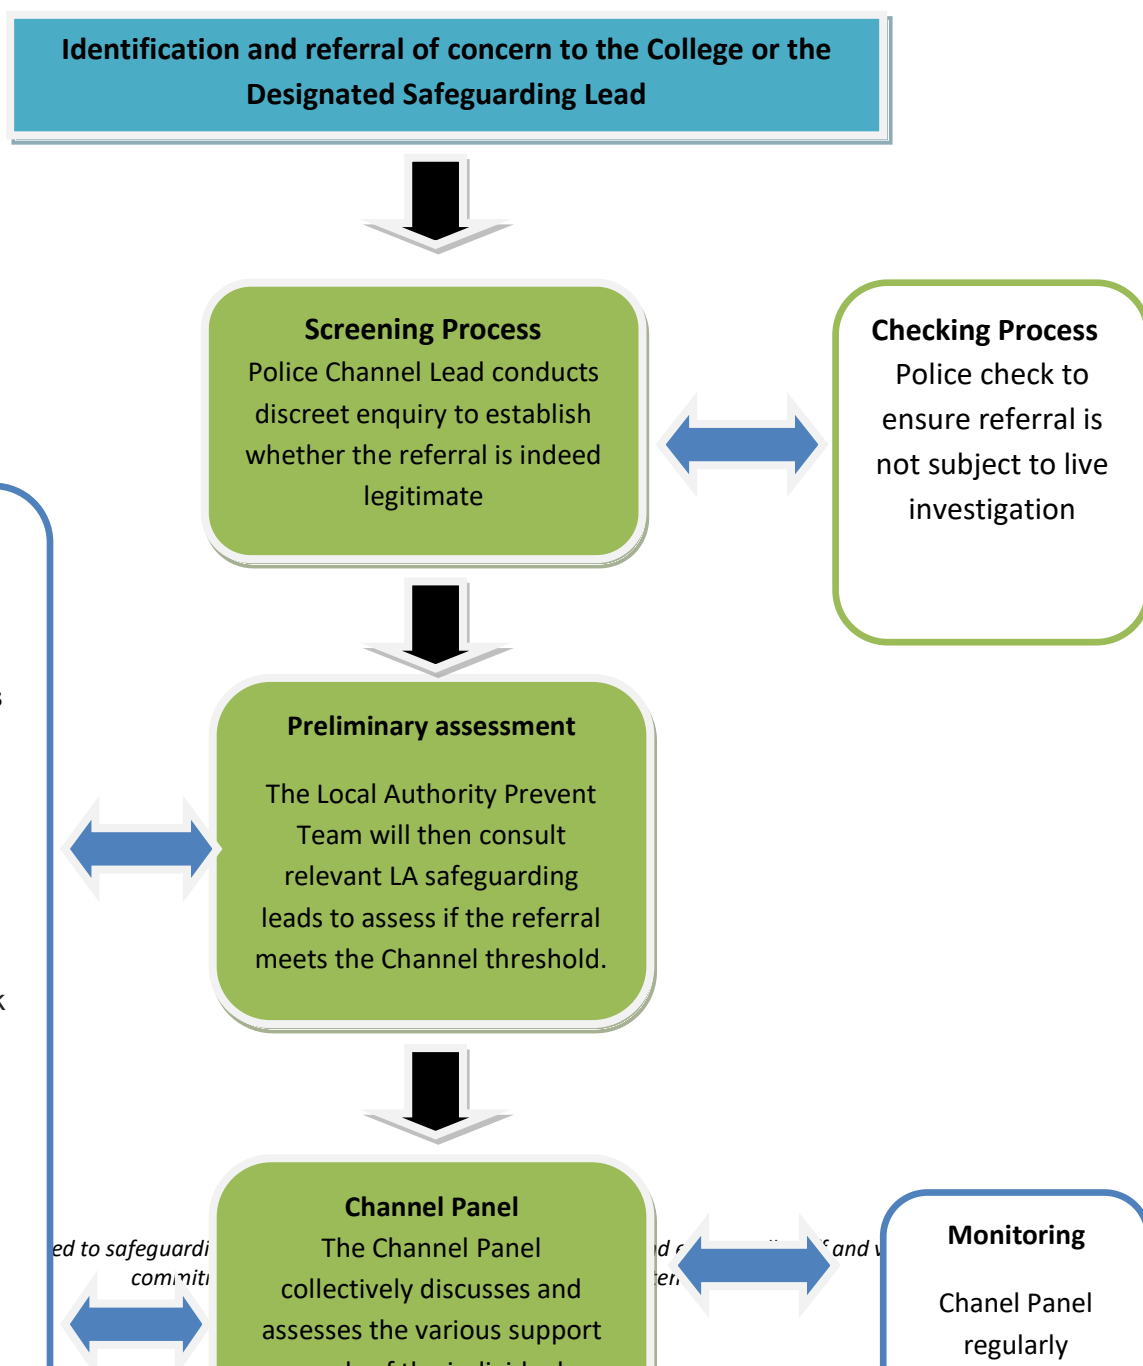

Who delivers Channel? Channel interventions are delivered through local partners and specialist agencies. Support could include mainstream health, education, employment or housing services through to specialist mentoring or faith guidance and wider diversionary activities such as sporting activities.

What do you do if you have escalating concerns? If you believe that someone is vulnerable to being exploited or radicalised, please follow the establishing safeguarding procedures in your organisation to escalate concerns to the appropriate people who can refer concerns to Channel as appropriate.

Prevent & Safeguarding Self-Assessment

Everyone who comes into contact with children and their families has a role to play in safeguarding children. Colleges have a duty of care to their pupils and staff which includes safeguarding them from the risk of being drawn into terrorism - this includes not just violent extremism but also non-violent extremism, which can create an atmosphere conducive to terrorism and can popularise views which terrorists exploit. Colleges should be safe spaces in which children and young people can understand and discuss sensitive topics, including terrorism and the extremist ideas that are part of the terrorist ideology and learn how to challenge these ideas.

College staff are particularly important as they are able to identify concerns early and provide help for children, to prevent concerns from escalating. Colleges and colleges and their staff form part of the wider safeguarding system for children. This system is described in statutory guidance Working Together to Safeguard Children (March 2013) and Keeping Children Safe in Education (October 2014). Colleges and colleges should work with social care, the police, health services and other services to promote the welfare of children and protect them from harm. Radicalisation is listed as a specific safeguarding issue within this statutory guidance and is addressed within the Government Prevent Strategy. The Counter-Terrorism and Security Act 2015 places a duty on Colleges to 'have "due regard to the need to prevent people from being drawn into terrorism"'.

The Prevent Strategy has three main objectives:

- Respond to the ideological challenge of terrorism & the threat we face from those who promote it;
- Prevent people from being drawn into terrorism and ensure that they are given appropriate advice and support;
- Work with sectors and institutions where there are risks of radicalisation which we need to address.

This self-assessment tool has been developed to aid compliance with the Prevent Duty as a health check for the Senior Leadership Team within a College to assess if Prevent has been adopted into their institution's mainstream processes. This will identify if their institution requires any advice and support from their local Prevent Team or partner agencies to reduce their vulnerability.

Freedom of Expression Policy 2019-2020

David Game College

1. Aim

The aim of this policy is to clarify our responsibility to foster Freedom of Expression in an educational setting within the boundaries of the law and the protections it provides and with consideration of our core values. It is written with reference to the Guidance provided by the Equality and Human Rights Commission on The Legal Framework for Freedom of Expression. <http://www.equalityhumanrights.com/publication/freedom-expression-legal-framework>. It is also linked to the statutory Prevent duty within the Counter Terrorism and Security Act 2015: <http://www.legislation.gov.uk/ukpga/2015/6/contents/enacted>
This policy should also be read in association with our Safeguarding policy and Prevent strategy policies. David Game College is committed to freedom of speech, but has a moral and legal obligation to protect its students from those who make seek to undermine British Values and the college must have due regard to the need to prevent individuals being drawn into terrorism.

2. Objectives

- 2.1 To clarify the College's responsibility to promote freedom of expression.
- 2.2 To identify the circumstances under which freedom of expression may be legitimately restricted.
- 2.3 To outline the College's responsibilities regarding visiting speakers including external lettings.

3. Responsibility to Promote Freedom of Expression

- 3.1 Section 43 of the Education (No 2) Act 1986, places a positive duty on universities and colleges to take such steps as are reasonably practicable to ensure that freedom of speech within the law is secured for members, students and employees of the establishment and for visiting speakers.
- 3.2 Freedom of expression is a fundamental right protected under the Human Rights Act 1998 and by Article 10 of the European Convention on Human Rights. It is also protected under the common law.
- 3.3 Protection under Article 10 extends to the expression of views that may shock, disturb or offend the deeply-held beliefs of others.
- 3.4 Freedom of expression is protected more strongly in some contexts than others. In particular, a wide degree of tolerance is accorded to political speech and debate during election campaigns. See Appendix 1 for more detail about Elections and Referendums.
- 3.5 As a College we are expected to allow open debating of challenging ideas which may need to use controversial resources. Controversial materials should not be left unchallenged by the member of staff using them.
- 3.6 The College has a duty to promote fundamental British Values. These are:
 - democracy
 - the rule of law

- individual liberty
- mutual respect
- tolerance of those of different faiths and beliefs

4. Legitimate Restriction on the Freedom of Expression

- 4.1 Freedom of expression may be limited in some circumstances and in particular does not protect statements that unlawfully discriminate against or harass, or incite violence or hatred against, other persons and groups, particularly by reference to their race, religious belief, gender or sexual orientation.
- 4.2 No one can rely on the human right to freedom of expression to limit or undermine the human rights of others.
- 4.3 The College has duties which require us to have due regard to the need to promote good relations between different communities protected by equality law. This may require active challenge to the use of offensive communication and hate speech.
- 4.4 The College also has a duty under the Counter Terrorism and Security Act 2015, to participate fully in work to prevent people from being drawn into terrorism.
- 4.5 Although there is no universally accepted definition, hate speech is generally understood to describe forms of expression which incite violence, hatred or discrimination against other persons and groups, particularly by reference to their ethnicity, religious belief, gender or sexual orientation, language, national origin or immigration status.

5. Visiting Speakers and lettings

- 5.1 The Prevent duties identified in the Counter Terrorism and Security Act 2015, require that the College has oversight of the content of any speeches or presentations by visiting speakers.
- 5.2 Organizers of a visiting speaker presentation should complete a risk assessment which will include any concerns re content of presentations.
- 5.3 The risk assessment must be approved by the organizer's line manager.
- 5.4 If the risk assessment raises concerns, the organizer or their line manager can pass the risk assessment to the Prevent Committee for further scrutiny.
- 5.5 These controls will also be applied to any lettings of our premises by outside organizations.
- 5.6 While challenging and controversial content can be allowed, the college is responsible for ensuring that such views are challenged during a presentation. This may necessitate the presence of a member of college staff at any such presentation even if this is externally organized as a premises letting.
- 5.7 The College is entitled to refuse a request to lease its premises for any use which does not match our core values.
- 5.8 John Dalton (Prevent Officer) and Dr John Sanders (Director of Higher Education) have the right to block speakers who they feel (with some evidence) might undermine British Values

Appendix 1 – Elections and Referendums

It is important to state at the outset that there is a particularly high level of legal protection for freedom of expression during election periods. Any interference with this right must be exceptional and subject to the strict limitations set out in human rights law.

The law permits people to say things that offend others during election periods and at other times. It is entirely proper that there should be vigorous debates about controversial matters, and this is particularly important during elections periods.

However, it is also important to note that the right to freedom of expression does not justify incitement to racial or religious violence or hatred, or other unlawful conduct. The right to freedom of expression cannot be at the expense of the rights and freedoms of others. Equality and Human Rights Law during an Election Period – Equality and Human Rights Commission.

Free elections and freedom of expression, particularly freedom of political debate, together form the bedrock of any democratic system... The two rights are interrelated and operate to reinforce each other... For this reason it is particularly important in the period preceding an election that opinions and information of all kinds are permitted to circulate freely. Bowman v UK (1998) the European Court of Human Rights.

- A. David Game College has a duty to promote Fundamental British Values such as democracy as identified in section 3.6 above.
- B. The College will make every effort to invite official candidates for the College’s Local Government Ward, Parliamentary Constituency or European Parliamentary Constituency to participate in events. This invitation will not be extended to political parties who are not represented in the relevant election.

- C. The College is conscious of the potential for leafleting from Political Parties, pressure groups or individuals to cause litter and other problems and so will present copies of literature from official candidates in a controlled central display, to help inform its own mock elections and participation in the local, national or European elections. Any materials brought into College and left around or fly posted will be removed. Political leaflets may be used as teaching resources. In this case the suitability will be left to the professional judgement of the member of staff concerned. They should also vet the suitability of any student generated materials for display.
- D. In the case of national or local referendums, the College will facilitate debates between representatives of the opposing views in the referendum and will display official literature on the referendum question, as well as providing this to tutors and lecturers to use as appropriate in their teaching.
- E. Any questions about the suitability of printed material for the College setting should be addressed to the Prevent Committee.
